

CERMAK HOLDING OWN TODAY, HIS DOCTORS REPORT

Pneumonia Area Hasn't Spread: New Oxygen Room Is Ordered

BULLETIN
Miami, Fla., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Dr. Karl A. Meyer said this afternoon a complete examination of Mayor Anton J. Cermak showed the pneumonia area in his right lung had not extended since yesterday.

"The complete examination has just been completed, and shows no expansion of the pneumonia area," Dr. Meyer said after dictating a bulletin which read:

"Mayor Cermak's condition continues comparatively satisfactory. He has had three hours of refreshing sleep. His pulse is 120, respiration 24. Temperature not taken."

Miami, Fla., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Mayor Anton Cermak's pneumonia area in the right lung has remained stationary in size since yesterday, physicians said today after a brief examination.

Failure of oxygen tents to function properly caused his five attending physicians to order an oxygen room—a portable tent-like affair, 9 by 10 feet—from New York. It will be brought by plane and will reach Miami tonight.

"We did not make a complete examination of the pneumonia area," Dr. Karl Meyer said, "because the patient was resting and we did not wish to disturb him with an examination that would require half an hour. Our brief examination, however, indicated no spread."

Pneumonia is confined to the lower lobe of the right lung and was described as a "localized pneumonia consolidation."

Findings Satisfactory
The doctors reported in their 9:20 A. M. bulletin that "the chest findings seem stationary," and Dr. Meyer explained this referred to the pneumonia.

Earlier Dr. E. S. Nichol said the Mayor had "a reasonable chance to live" and that he saw nothing to indicate that he did not have "an excellent chance for life in the next 24 hours."

Mayor Cermak is suffering from a bullet wound inflicted by the assassin Giuseppe Zangara, under sentence of 80 years for an attempt on the life of President-elect Roosevelt and wounding three others.

"Every passing day without unfavorable complications adds to his chance to recovery," Dr. Meyer said.

CITE NEW THEORY
Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Daily Illustrated Times said today Chicago police were investigating a theory that Giuseppe Zangara may have been hired by gangsters to kill Mayor Anton Cermak.

The investigation was started, the Times said, on underworld information that "somewhere in a closed bank in Chicago there is a cancelled check drawn by an underworld character in favor of Zangara and indorsed with Zangara's signature."

The newspaper quoted an unnamed high police official as saying there was ground for belief that Zangara, despite his confession, wanted to kill Cermak and not President-elect Roosevelt.

The article quoted a woman witness in Miami as having heard Zangara as Cermak fell: "I got him! I got him!" It also said Zangara was known in the army as an expert marksman, saying his aim probably would have been true.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

PITY POOR CO-EDS
Madison, Wis., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Pity the poor University of Wisconsin co-ed if a bill introduced in the legislature becomes a law. It would be illegal for any person not a member of a fraternity to wear its insignia.

JOB STOPPED TRIAL
Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A job stopped the wheels of justice momentarily in the trial of two persons accused in a bombing case.

The hearing was stopped when juror Edward Fletcher explained he had just received an offer of a job, after being out of work a year, and he thought he should take it. The attorneys and the court agreed.

SPRING FEVER CURE
Everton, Mo., Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Ozark hillsmen have begun their annual hunt in the woods for what they believe to be the only reliable cure for "spring fever"—sassafras.

In winter, so the hillsman reason, the blood thickens because of the heat-producing foods which mountain folk must eat. A body becomes sluggish. Something is needed to thin the blood for the hot days ahead or else the summer will make one listless. As a blood purifier the most reliance is placed in sassafras tea.

HERE'S A NEW ONE
Rome, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Filippo Tommaso Marinetti, author famed as the father of futurism, has tried something new—a book printed on tin.

It is entitled "Words on the Liberty of Futurism as Regards Touch, Heat and Smell." "Liberty," says the author, "is too sacred a word to be printed on paper. It demands a metallic elasticity."

The pages are of very light, white tin. The printing is in black. Illustrations are in brilliant tricolor.

SMITH'S SCHEME FOR PROSPERITY GIVEN SENATORS

Former Governor Tells Ideas In Hearing By Committee

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Straight-from-the-shoulder counsel from Alfred E. Smith to the Senate Finance committee today embraced recommendations for a federal bond issue to finance enlarged public construction, a war debt moratorium aimed to expand American foreign markets, and recognition of Soviet Russia.

He was out to help the committee in its search for ways and means to improve the national situation, and he let his hearers know at the outset his opposition to inflation schemes.

Adverting to the prohibition repeal resolution now before the states, he opposed Congress fixing the manner for states to call conventions to act on the amendment.

Assume that 15 or 20 states would not call conventions," asked Senator Barkley (D. Ky.). "Would you leave it up to the states?" replied Smith.

Against Inflation
"I don't believe inflation will help us at all," said the 1928 Democratic presidential nominee.

"It is just like giving a sick man a shot in the arm. It will take a stiffer shot the next time."

A consolidated transportation system under federal regulation and with a national Secretary for Transportation was another Smith proposal. He was a member of the National Transportation Committee that has been surveying the railroad field.

Addressing the Senators in his direct way, with a good-natured aside now and then, he declared a condition akin to war confronts the country.

"Cut out all this red tape," he advised, "and go back and build buildings like we did cantinements—over night."

For Lower Interest
Again he urged that Reconstruction Corporation interest rates on construction loans be cut to four per cent, and especially called for speeding up of highway work.

"It isn't the number of men employed on a highway or building itself that helps," he said, "but more labor is employed in the fabrication of materials that go into the buildings."

He said 4000 men was the peak (Continued On Page 2)

REICHSTAG FIRE BRINGS VIRTUAL MARTIAL CONTROL

Suppression Of Communism Ordered By Hitler Government

BULLETIN
Berlin, Feb. 28.—(AP)—President von Hindenburg today placed the German republic under virtual martial law by signing an emergency decree giving the police extraordinary powers to enforce order.

The cabinet, which had been in session since 11 A. M. adjourned at 2:30 P. M. until 5 P. M. It had heard a report from Wilhelm Goerring, Minister without portfolio, upon the fire which damaged the Reichstag building yesterday and the result of a raid last week by police on Karl Liebknecht House, Communist headquarters on Buelowplatz.

A military state of emergency was refrained from in order to keep the Reichswehr (standing army) out of political action, but the measures to be decreed will have the effect of placing Germany under a state of emergency with the sole object of meeting Communist danger.

Press Prohibited
The Hitler government ordered prohibition of the entire leftist press and the arrest of the 100 Communist members of the last Parliament today.

With Reichstag and Prussian Diet elections five days off, orders were regarded as forerunners to the outlawing of the Communist party. They followed swiftly upon partial destruction of the massive half-century old Reichstag building in a fire started by an alleged Dutch Communist last night. Many persons thought the fire was set so the Communists could be blamed.

Among the 130 persons arrested by noon were two leading members of the Pacific League for Human Rights and several radical writers.

To Assume Control
The two leftist parties formed the bulk of the majority opposition against the Hitler regime in the Reichstag dissolved this month, holding 221 of the 554 seats. The Communists and Hitlerites formed the two largest parties in the Prussian Diet, which was dissolved also.

Outlawing of only the Communists was expected to easily assure Chancellor Hitler's party of control in both the Reichstag and Diet to be elected Sunday.

It will take eight months to repair the Reichstag building. The new Reichstag will meet in the Prussian Diet building. Investigation disclosed the Reichstag building, which includes some offices of Chancellor Hitler and other officials, was fired in 15 different places.

IS TROUBLE-MAKER
Amsterdam, Holland, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Marius van der Lubbe, the Dutchman who was arrested at Berlin in connection with the burning of the Reichstag building, is the leader of the Leyden branch of the Communist party and has given the police there trouble on several occasions.

He left Leyden for Berlin three weeks ago. In 1931 he started for Russia with a Communist passport when he reached Berlin the German authorities sent him back to Holland.

COMMUNISTS CHARGE
Munich, Bavaria, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Neue Zeitung, one of the few Communist newspapers still appearing, asserted today that the fire in the German Reichstag building at Berlin was the work of provocateurs who hoped to make it possible to suppress the Communist party.

Paraguay Accepts Terms For Parley
Asuncion, Paraguay, Feb. 28.—(AP)—It was learned unofficially today that Paraguay had accepted with minor modifications a conciliation proposal drawn up by Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Peru looking toward a settlement of the conflict over the Gran Chaco territory between Bolivia and Paraguay.

Paraguay and Bolivia have been skirmishing for approximately eight months for possession of the Gran Chaco territory which lies between the two countries. President Eusebio Ayala of Paraguay last Friday in a message to Congress asks a formal declaration of war against Bolivia.

ILLINOIS GETS ITS LAST MONEY FROM UNCLE SAM

Final Advance Made By R.F.C. With A Warning Note

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Reconstruction Corporation in granting loans to four states for emergency relief today told Illinois officials that the corporation can loan that state no more money after March 31.

Illinois was granted $6,245,143 today of which $5,196,275 goes to Cook county, bringing the total loaned Illinois to $44,738,621.

The maximum amount the corporation can loan one state is $45,000,000.

At the same time Ohio was granted a loan of $2,257,565 for use during March. Iowa was granted $353,261, and Wisconsin $3,608,222.

The Iowa loan is to care for 22 unspecified counties and that for Wisconsin goes to 76 counties.

The Illinois fund, outside of that allocated to Chicago, is to be distributed among 46 counties.

In making the loan the corporation called the "urgent attention of Illinois" to the fact that the $6,451,143 loan together with $38,493,478 previously granted would bring the grand total to within $261,379 of the maximum amount fixed by Congress that the corporation may loan any one state.

"This inevitably means," said the corporation, "that Illinois must find other ways and means of relieving its own people and assuming the full cost within the next 30 days."

"The Illinois General Assembly is now in session and has been for several weeks. It should act at once in view of the situation."

Two Robberies Are Reported Entered
The Schuck & Bates grocery, West Everett street and Upham Place, was entered and robbed during the night. The thieves used a pinch bar to pry open two doors on the east side of the building and entered the store. A large ham, several cartons of cigarettes, some candy and about $15 in cash was reported to have been taken. A quantity of fresh meat and other articles had been laid out, but the intruders apparently were frightened away before completing their collection.

The McCaskey accounting system, a heavy metal case which was locked and contained the accounts of customers, was also hauled away. The robbery was discovered this morning shortly after 6 o'clock when the store was opened and was immediately reported to the police, who started an investigation.

The Orville Brant service station was entered during the supper hour Sunday evening, the cash register opened and $15 in bills removed, it was learned today. No report of the robbery had been made to the police or sheriff's office.

EDITORIAL THE SALES TAX.

The Illinois legislature is considering the passage of a law which will place a three per cent tax on the sale of everything handled by retail merchants. The proceeds are designed for unemployment relief purposes. Everybody admits that unemployment relief must be carried on at all costs until the world rights itself and men can find work. Everyone who pays taxes, and that means all of us, directly or indirectly, knows that the tax burden is already intolerable. The Telegraph hopes that the legislature will not dance blithely and blindly through with this sales tax program without careful consideration of what its enactment may do to the retail merchants and the buying public.

In the first place, we believe three per cent is too high. We believe that one per cent would provide ample funds for unemployment relief in Lee County.

In the second place we believe that the law, if passed, should provide that all of the tax collected in each county should be returned directly to that county for use as each county sees fit.

In the third place, we believe that the law should provide that no merchant or dealer can absorb the tax and that it should be passed on to the buyer in some such form as, for example, a stamp tax.

If there is no provision for passing the tax on; if the law merely makes it a tax on the cash receipts of every business house, the law is merely a tax on the merchant and not a sales tax at all. The merchants of the state are fighting desperately to keep their businesses afloat. If they are further burdened with a tax of $300 for every $10,000 of volume in their business most of them will collapse.

The Telegraph realizes that in some counties there is an absolute necessity for some tax law that will give additional revenue for unemployment relief. This is particularly true in Cook County. But must counties such as Lee tax their people three times as much as their needs require in order to enable Cook County to care for its unemployed?

It is argued that this sales tax is a replacement tax, meaning that any money left over from unemployment relief can be used to reduce other taxes. But are we to reduce these other taxes at the expense of the merchant and the buyer of his goods? Are we to put an additional tax on bread and butter when so many people find it difficult and many others find it impossible to buy it at all? Is not such a proposition one of robbing Peter to pay Paul?

We grant that the unemployed must be fed and clothed and sheltered. Nothing should interfere in that. But must all the counties of the state assume this terrific burden just because a few counties need extra funds?

The General Assembly in Pennsylvania at a previous session, passed a sales tax law to provide funds for unemployment relief and Governor Pinchot of that state signed the bill. Governor Pinchot has changed his mind about the sales tax. We quote from his recent speech:

"At the last extra session of the General Assembly $12,000,000 was needed for unemployment relief. Additional taxation had to be provided to raise this sum. After much discussion the General Assembly finally decided upon the emergency sales tax. It came to that or no relief, therefore I signed the Bill. A sales tax, bad as it is, was better than having the Commonwealth default on its obligations to its unemployed."

"A sales tax is bad because it is simply one more device to put the tax burden mainly on those who are least able to pay. It denies the sound principle of equality of sacrifice, because it bears more heavily in proportion on the poor than on the rich. A sales tax amounts, in effect, to a graduated income tax reversed, for under it the smaller a man's income the larger percentage of it goes to pay the tax."

"A worker or a farmer spends something like half of his total income for consumer's goods upon which sales taxes are levied. A rich man may, and often does, spend as little for these same goods as five per cent. One-half of the poor man's income is taxed under the sales tax and one-half escapes. Five per cent of the rich man's income pays under the sales tax and ninety-five per cent escapes."

"There is no justice in such an arrangement. It is merely another way to free the rich from taxation."

"A sales tax has been urged as a means to provide further unemployment relief. It is not necessary. Under the plan suggested in this message we can provide relief without it. I recommend strongly that the Emergency Sales Tax shall not be renewed and that no other sales tax be substituted for it."

Possibly Illinois is now in just such a predicament as Pennsylvania was. If there is no better way to provide unemployment relief—if such relief work cannot be carried on without a sales tax, by all means let us enact a sales tax and let us accept it with all the fortitude we may be able to muster. But the rural districts are already taxed nearly to death and we hope that the members of the legislature who come from the great urban centers realize that until prosperity and the resultant buying power comes to the farmer the cities can never enjoy prosperity.

If the sales tax must come we hope that the down-state counties will not be forced to raise taxes greatly in excess of their needs and we hope that such taxes as are raised from the sales tax will be allowed to remain or will be returned to the communities that pay them in proportion to the amount paid.

DENVER POLICE MAY BE TAKEN OFF KIDNAPING

Chief Considers Plan To Let Family Proceed Unaided

Denver, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Police Chief A. T. Clark said today he was considering withdrawal of police in the Charles Boettcher 2nd kidnaping case to allow free negotiations between the abductors of the 31-year-old investment broker, and Charles K. Boettcher, millionaire father of the missing man.

"When the elder Boettcher announced his intention several days ago to act independently of police," Clark said, "my first reaction was that such a move would hinder the progress of justice. Now I am seriously considering ordering off police and let Boettcher conduct the case as he sees fit."

A policeman stationed at the palatial Boettcher residence was removed today. The officer had been on duty since a few days after Feb. 12 when the young heir to riches was abducted from his home garage.

Negotiations Failed
The father sought to negotiate without police assistance with the abductors who demanded $60,000 ransom. Finally he warned the kidnappers the son must be returned safely by midnight last Saturday or all promises he had made to pay were off. The son was not returned.

"Give me another day to think it over; I want to talk to his wife, mother and other members of the family," was the way Police Chief Albert T. Clark reported the elder Boettcher's answer to a request that police be allowed to study the original note from the kidnappers along with other communications received from them. Police never have had access to any of the communications.

Meanwhile, plans for a long-delayed house-to-house canvass by members of various civic bodies and luncheon club were completed.

UTLEY ESTATE HEARING IS SET FOR MARCH 13th.

Heirs Object To Last Report Of Executor Filed Yesterday

Attorney Frank B. Schwager of Chicago, member of the legal department of the International Harvester Company, appeared before Judge Leach in the County Court yesterday afternoon to file a final report in the estate of the late H. B. Utley, deceased vice president of the company. The report was that of Franklin Hess, also deceased, executor of the estate. A fee amounting to $12,000 for the executor's service was asked in the instrument which was opposed by John Utley and Mrs. David Oliver, son and daughter of the deceased.

Attorney E. E. Wingert of this city appeared in behalf of the objecting heirs and the case was set for hearing on March 13.

The late Franklin Hess, named in the will as executor of the Henry B. Utley estate, passed away six months after the death of Mr. Utley, after which the Chicago Title & Trust company became the executors as provided in the will. Verbal objections were made criticizing the executor for failure to dispose of blocks of International Harvester Company stocks. The value of the estate, not including holdings in British Columbia, Minnesota and Louisiana, approximates about $600,000.

STATE SENATOR GUNNING SPOKE FOR TAXPAYERS

The Princeton Legislator Tells Why He Opposed Sales Taxes

Senator Thomas P. Gunning of Princeton addressed the regular weekly meeting of the Lee County Taxpayers Association last evening at the court house, delivering one of the most interesting tax expose talks that has been heard before this organization. The Senator is a champion of the tax cause and has introduced several bills which are intended to equalize taxation in Illinois. In his opening remarks he discussed briefly the personal property bill, which he has introduced into the Senate, and the Searcy bill, both of which are to be acted upon this week.

"The personal property tax bill was introduced a year ago and for four or five years was open to discussion," the speaker stated, then called attention to some of its provisions.

"First, it provides that every individual is responsible for the scheduling of his own property and he is liable after May 1. This provision places the responsibility upon every individual in the state of Illinois who should pay taxes and not upon the shoulders of the Assessor. There are many vacationists in Illinois, who make it a practice to be away from home in the spring when the assessor is making his rounds and when they return, the assessor has not been able to see these vacationists, with the result that their names do not appear on the tax books. My bill provides that these individuals cannot escape taxation as they are doing now. They will be required to do the same."

The Girl Scout Field Institute on Thursday and Friday

A Girl Scout Field Institute was held at the Woman's Club in Rockford, February 23rd and 24th, the purpose of which was to instruct and to inspire Girl Scout workers. Mrs. Potter of Morrison, Mesdames Theo. Miller, Jr., Harry Edwards, W. D. Hart, David Marks, H. U. Bardwell, William Harvey, Misses Louise Brewster, Marion Smith and Josephine McClelland of Dixon, beside Rockford and Janesville, Wis., women attended. Miss Margaret Murray, secretary of the national Girl Scout field institute came from New York to preside. Miss Alice Kirk, regional director and Mrs. Katie Lee Johnson of the National Advisory Staff of Chicago were in attendance.

Talks and discussions on the various phases of Girl Scout work were ably handled and proved beneficial to those in attendance.

Thursday's events closed with a dinner given by the Senior Girl Scout troop at the Girl Scout headquarters.

Friday's session closed with the complimentary performance of a Girl Scout picture at the Palace Theater. The session was presided over by Mrs. B. F. McClelland of Rockford. The Scout Directors in attendance included Mrs. William Harvey of Dixon, Miss Vivian Carter of Rockford, and Miss Sell of Janesville. Miss Sell will be remembered by Dixon Girl Scouts as Camp Director a few years ago.

Josephson Family Honored at Party

The spacious country home of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. McCarter in Harmon was scene of a most enjoyable gathering Wednesday evening to do honors to the Charles Josephson family, who are leaving soon to continue their farming activities in South Dixon township. "500" occupied the close attention of the guests until midnight when scores were counted. Mrs. John Hicks and Mrs. Jake Jacobs held high score while the low score was in the hands of Mrs. Josephson and James Scanlan, Sr. In behalf of these neighbors and friends Mrs. Lynn Parker in a few well chosen words presented the Josephson family with a pretty end table. Very greatly surprised, and touched by this show of respect paid them Mr. and Mrs. Josephson responded graciously accepting the tendered gift. Miss Jennings, the Lake school teacher, expressed regret in losing the pupils as well as the family, from the school district and thanked the Josephsons for their fine cooperation in the school work and activities, and announced a farewell party would be given in their honor at the close of the studies this week end.

Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour after which the guests departing expressed wishes for success of the Josephson's in their new home on the farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. Chris Johnson.

ANOTHER RELEASE IN NEA'S FOOD SERIES STEAK LIFTED TO ARISTOCRACY—FILET MIGNON

A Food Fit for Kings When Cooked and Served With Care

By NEA Service—

Beefsteak is the one food that is known the world-round. Say the English word and waiters in China, Japan, Germany, France and even Russia will know what you mean and bring you their idea of it.

Filet mignon is the de luxe edition of this universal dish. When you serve it at home, take time out to make it a food fit for a king!

One glamorous way of fixing mignon is to serve it on sautéed circles of pineapple, garnished with dices of sautéed green peppers.

Have your butcher cut your filet mignon from one and a half inches thick. If you can't go de luxe on it it is better to serve something else. Steak should be thick! It comes in slices, and when cut thick, one is enough for a serving.

MUST HAVE HOT OVEN
To prepare the setting for your steak, put one tablespoonful of butter in a sauce pan and slowly sauté one large diced green pepper, or two small ones. Remove pepper dices, when they are sautéed, to a brown paper and place in your warming oven, which should be kept hot. Then put another tablespoon of butter into the sauce pan, and carefully sauté your slices of pineapple, with the juice drained off. Brown lightly on both sides.

While this is being done, of course, your steak should be broiling. The secret of broiling steak just right is to have your oven piping hot when you put the steak in. Light the oven at least 15 minutes before you want to cook your steak. This heat helps sear your steak quickly, which keeps the juices in and makes it tender. Slow heat spoils the best steak!

When all is ready, have your platter piping hot, place the pineapple circles carefully and top each with a piece of steak. It is necessary to use a dash of cayenne pepper over the steak, to add zest to the combination that the steak makes with the pineapple. Place the diced pepper around the pineapple, as a garnish.

ARE WE CHILDREN OF THE STARS?

It would be a dull imagination that failed to stir at Dean Charles B. Lipman's report that he had found living bacterial in the interior of meteors.

To be sure, science generally is not as quick to get excited about this amazing discovery as laymen are. Science has a way of checking and rechecking all such discoveries before accepting them wholeheartedly. It wants to make absolutely sure that there cannot have been any slip-up anywhere.

But for us who are more credulous about such things, this announcement opens a new door on the universe and sets in motion a new train of speculation.

If verified, Prof. Lipman's discovery would open the way to a new theory of the origin of life on the earth—or, rather to a revision of an old theory.

It has been suggested that the first life on this planet came in the form of minute organisms drifting in from outer space somewhere. This has never been much more than an unsupported guess; in the very nature of things, there has been no concrete evidence to support it. Most scientists have not been willing to accept it.

But this discovery would revive that theory. If the wandering meteors carry infinitesimal bits of life embedded in their flinty interiors, the theory might become the very cornerstone of scientific belief. If you can actually prove that life has come to the earth from outer space, you have good grounds for suggesting that that was the way all the life on earth originated.

And yet solving this ancient puzzle really would leave us as much in the dark as ever. Suppose the drifting star dust did bring the first life; what then? In what far-off celestial workshop did that life originate? How and when did it come to birth? How did it happen to drift our way?

These stupendous questions follow in the train of Prof. Lipman's discovery. We never can answer them. It is useless to try. And yet it would be a sluggish imagination that failed to be stirred by them.

JAPAN, TOO, HAS ITS PACIFISTS.

The real hero of the moment in Japan—using the word hero in its old-fashioned sense to mean a man who has completely conquered his fear of death—seems to be Yukio Ozaki, a 74-year-old pacifist.

Mr. Ozaki has been traveling abroad, and has made no secret of his disapproval of his country's adventure in Manchuria. Now Japan is full, these days, of 100 per cent Japanese to whom criticism of the army clique is nothing less than black treason, and they have a way of coolly assassinating all such critics.

So Mr. Ozaki was warned not to go home. But he went, anyway. When his ship docked at Kobe he got a foretaste of what was coming to him, when two men tried to attack him on the gang-plank. The police frustrated the attempt, and also foiled another effort by patriotic assassins to board the ship and get the pacifist before he landed.

But there will be more attacks, and it isn't likely that all of them will be defeated. And Mr. Ozaki calmly goes his way, reiterating what he once wrote to his son—"For a public man, the best form of death is to fall at the cold hand of an assassin." He knows what's ahead of him, he isn't afraid, and he won't be shut up.

Now it is a very good thing for us to know about Mr. Ozaki.

During the last year or so, about the only Japanese we have heard of are the fire-eaters, the ultra-militaristic crowd who will stop at nothing. This has tended to give us the notion that all Japan is made up of such people, that reason and moderation have no voice at all in the Mikado's kingdom, that every living Japanese is fanatically devoted to a rule-or-ruin policy.

But that isn't quite true. Japan does contain men who disapprove of militarism—men who aren't afraid to court death by saying so. And it is important that we recognize the fact.

For sooner or later, it is to precisely that class that we must appeal. It is the existence of that class which gives us the right to hope for a peaceful and orderly future.

THE TRIBUTE TO GLASS.

In all the discussion of cabinet choices which has filled the newspapers during the last few weeks, perhaps the most striking thing is the unanimity of the tribute which has been paid Senator Carter Glass of Virginia.

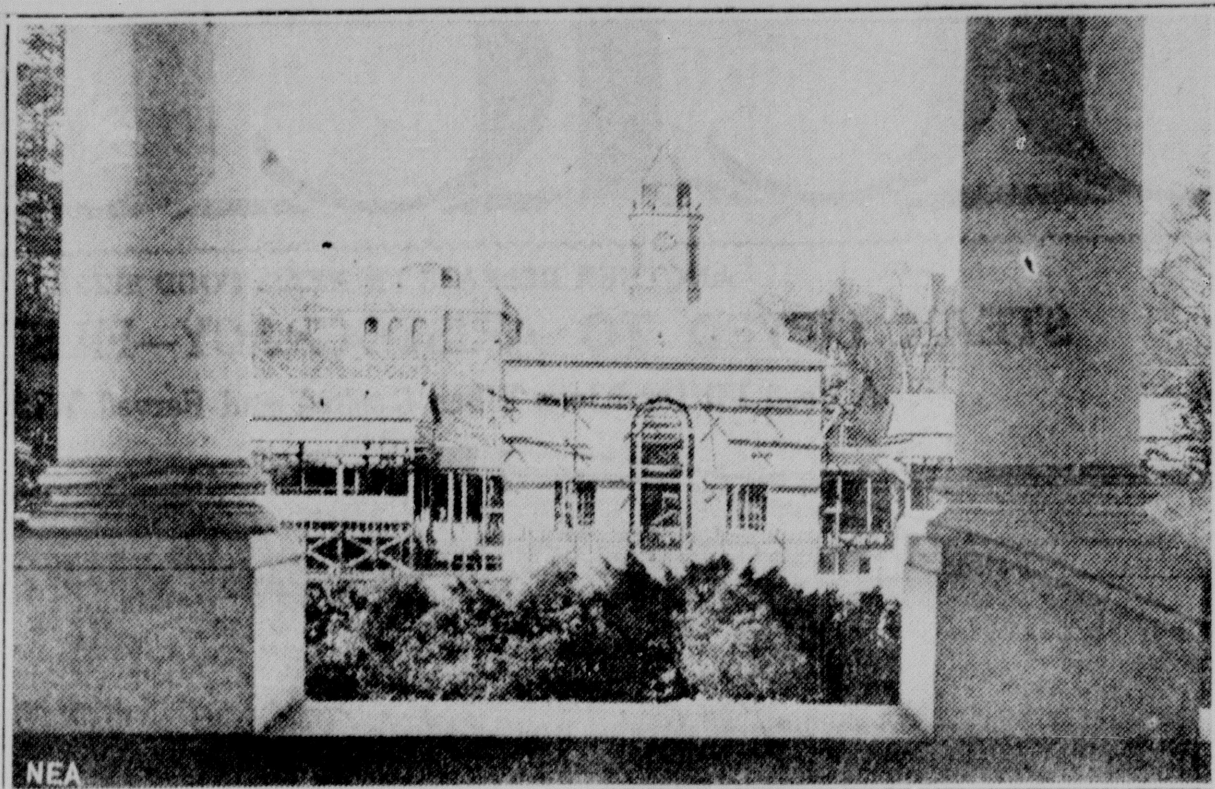

When it was reported that Senator Glass would be secretary of the treasury there was an almost complete chorus of satisfaction. Then, when it was announced that he could not see his way clear to accept the post, there was an almost equally complete expression of regret.

And that, now, has been followed by nation-wide expressions of satisfaction that the veteran Virginian will continue to be on the job in the Senate, giving the country the benefit, from that vantage point, of his wisdom and his ability.

It is not often that a man in public life evokes such a tribute.

It would seem that the Senate has a case of jitters.—Senator M. M. Loyan (Dem., Ky.).

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Jack Garner's statement to the House on the day Congress in joint session formally declared him the next Vice President, that "I'd rather stay in the House than go to the Senate," perhaps was vastly more than a mere expression of sentiment.

That "Cactus Jack" will miss the easy informality of the House, where he has spent the 30 years of his political life and the close personal friendships he has built there can hardly be doubted. And that President-elect Roosevelt wants him to have an important place in the coming administration is indicated rather clearly by the way he has figured in conferences here during the next President's visits.

But, even if Roosevelt has made it clear that he is counting on the shrewd, ruddy-faced, experienced Texan to play a role quite outside that for which any Vice President has ever been cast, Garner still says, "I'd rather stay in the House."

LIVELY TIMES BEHIND—

For to him, at best, the Vice Presidency hardly can be more than an anti-climax of a long political career that had its high point the day he was chosen Speaker of the House.

Garner is convinced perhaps that no matter how prominently he may figure in the coming administration there will be no opportunity to know any such moments of power and influence as were those he enjoyed as Speaker.

As Vice President, for example, what opportunity could come his way such as on that day when the House was in almost open revolt on the sales tax and he stepped down from this dais and single-handedly brought the House membership to its feet cheering and pledged to the passage of tax legislation that would balance the budget?

And what chance will he have as presiding officer of the Senate to exert such power as he did on the first day of the present short session, when he forced the House to vote on the question of submission of a naked repeal resolution to the states within three hours of its convening?

HIS CHANCE AGAIN—

And when the prohibition repeal resolution had cleared the Senate hurdle, he found himself in a position to exert similar power again—the extreme limit of the written or implied powers of the speaker.

Not since the days of the czar-like rule of "Uncle Joe" Cannon as Speaker has such a thing been done.

IMPROVED MILK

Milk has been called a perfect food and for a time this designation remained unchallenged.

However as our nutritional studies advanced, numerous scientific arose to challenge this claim and today we find that the statements as to the food values of milk are qualified.

Instead of milk being designated as the perfect food, it is now briefly called, the "most nearly perfect food," or more elaborately and more descriptively, "the most efficient of all foods in making good the deficiencies of grains and in insuring the all-around adequacy of the diet."

Milk contains high quality proteins, and is rich in mineral elements and certain vitamins. It possesses carbohydrates and fats, which are readily utilized by the body.

Despite all this, it is not possible to rear a mammal from infancy through adulthood on whole cow's milk alone. For milk lacks certain essential mineral substances and is deficient in certain important vitamins.

Milk, for example, is relatively poor in iron and is also deficient in copper. Both of these minerals are essential in the formation of hemoglobin, the red coloring matter of the blood.

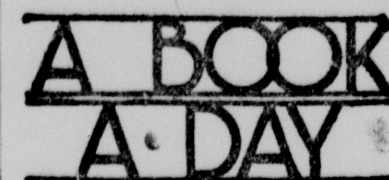

The infant can thrive on milk because it starts out in life with a relatively rich reserve of iron in its body, but nutritional anemia will follow if the infant's diet is not supplemented with iron-containing foods, and if it is kept too long upon an exclusive milk diet.

In the light of this deficiency, experimental attempts have been made to add traces of iron, copper and other essential minerals to milk. Experimental animals have been fed on this mineralized milk with satisfactory results.

It may be possible safely to mineralize milk intended for human consumption. When this is achieved, milk will become still more a "most nearly perfect food."

Tomorrow—Anti-Rickets Milk

Poets and romanticists have wept for centuries over the sad fact that romantic love doesn't last long. What they usually fail to notice is that when two people share life together for a long time this fervid passion gets replaced by something sadder—a deep bond that is not exactly love and not exactly fidelity, but a sort of combination of the two which gives a new significance to life itself.

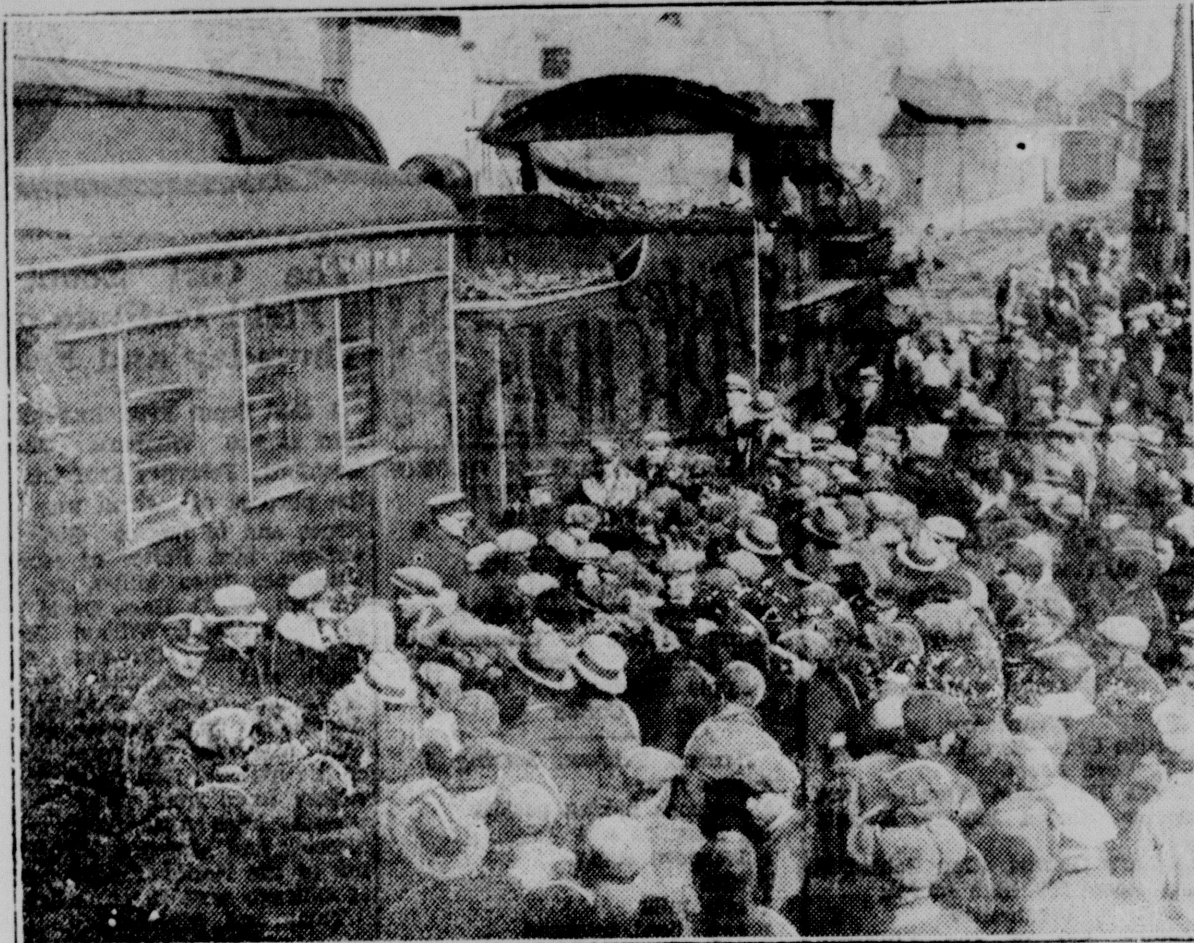

This thought runs through "Hardy Perennial," a novel by Helen Hull, which is one of the bright spots on the current publisher's lists.

The book presents us with a middle-aged woman who is ripe for just that kind of matronly revolt which provides us with so many "problem" novels. Her husband, an official in some foundation in New York, is getting to be a bore; he is selfish, pompous, obtuse and not above a bit of high-minded philandering now and then. Her children are growing up and growing away from her. The wife is about ready to cut her moorings, and there seems little reason why she shouldn't.

Then comes trouble. The husband simultaneously loses his job and gets into a nasty jam with his charming secretary. And it is at this point that the wife discovers the existence and the power of the bond mentioned above.

She sticks to the ship—not exactly because of love or moral principles, but because this bond is a hardy perennial which can stand a lot of killing.

Milk Strikers Halt Train; Routed By 'Water Cure'

A serious outbreak in Wisconsin's milk strike brought a clash of deputies and police with farmer-pickets at Waukesha. Pickets halted a milk train and disconnected it. Police established a guard over the train, as shown here. When the crowd of farmers again threatened the train they were dispersed by police and firemen who turned fire hose streams on them.

REDUCTIONS IN SALES TAX RATE IS MONROE AIM

Collinsville Senator To Seek Rate Of 1 1-2 Pct.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—Hoping to force down to 1 1-2 per cent the rate in the 3 per cent sales tax bill now pending in the House, Senator James O. Monroe, Collinsville, this week will press his measure for a 1 1-2 per cent tax on all forms of business, trades and occupations, not already covered by the sales tax bill.

The Monroe bill has been referred to the Senate Revenue committee of which he is chairman. He plans to have it reported out and put on the calendar Wednesday.

Senator Monroe said today that Governor Horner has agreed to support his bill but has not agreed to a reduction of the 3 per cent rate in the sales tax bill to 1 1-2 per cent.

The latest amendment planned to the sales tax bill takes on the form of a stamp tax. It would exempt purchases up to 20 or 25 cents, place a 1-cent tax on purchases from 25 cents to 50 cents, 2 cents from 50 cents to $1.00 and apply the 3 per cent tax on purchases over $1.00.

The plan, now being drafted by the legislative Reference Bureau, may be ready for consideration when the sales tax bill is taken up by the House Judiciary committee Wednesday.

Bank Receivers Will Keep Posts

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Attorney General Otto Kerner announced today he will appeal direct to the Supreme Court of Illinois the ruling of Superior Judge Denis E. Sullivan Saturday that all bank receivers appointed by the State Auditor are holding office illegally.

The ruling was made in a complaint brought by a depositor in the closed Phillips State Bank of Chicago.

"We plan to test this ruling in the high court," Kerner said, "because Judge Sullivan held the section of the Banking Act unconstitutional."

That section dealing with the appointment of receivers was declared unconstitutional because it delegated to the State Auditor certain powers that only the legislature or judiciary can hold.

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Peoria, Ill., during the week ending February 18, was the healthiest city in the United States, the Census Bureau announced today. Peoria had a death rate of 6.4 per cent for that week. The national average was 12.4 per cent.

The death rate in Chicago during that week was slightly lower than average, being 12.2. For the same week last year the death rates were 16.0 per cent for Peoria and 12.1 per cent for Chicago.

My, how old Lady Bug could run. When Duncy rode, he cried, "What fun! This cart is like a chariot. I am a Roman, bold."

"Giddy there, Lady Bug! Go fast! I don't know how long this will last, but while it does I promise you that I won't lose my hold."

"Here's where you get a big surprise," the bug said. "You don't realize what speed I really can attain when I fly off the ground."

"You'll notice that I have big wings, and they are very powerful things. I hope you don't get dizzy when I start in whizzing around."

The other Tines stood nearby and Scouty shortly said, "Oh, my! Poor Duncy is getting frightened. I can tell it by his face."

"The bug has started going fast. Just watch them as they whiz right past. You would really think both of them were entered in a race."

And then the bug grew all tired out and shortly let wee Duncy out. "Hurray for you," one Tine cried. "You rode just like a vet."

Poor Duncy squatted on the ground. "I have had enough sailing around," he whimpered. "I am sleepy, so some sleep I'm going to get."

"Say that's a good idea now, to rest up after having fun," exclaimed one of the friendly bugs. "I'll fix you all a bed."

"You shortly will be sleeping tight, and everything will be all right. It's time for you to turn in, 'cause the moon is overhead."

A little daisy grew nearby. It raised its head and shouted, "I can make a dandy canopy. Just watch me. You will see."

Then, when its head was swung around, its petals drooped down toward the ground. "Crawl underneath," it shouted. "You'll be comfy as can be."

EX-SEC. MELLON MADE DEFENDANT IN UNUSUAL SUIT

$220,000,000 Damages Is Asked Of Mellon
And Two Others

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon and two of his former Treasury associates have been named defendants in a $220,000,000 civil suit—the largest ever filed in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

The suit charges connivance with officers of unidentified foreign steamship companies to evade payment of income taxes.

Besides Mellon, Ambassador to Great Britain and former Secretary of the Treasury, David H. Blair, one-time Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and Alexander W. Gregg, former Acting General Counsel of the Revenue Bureau, were named defendants.

The suit was filed by David A. Olson, who resigned recently as a stock market investigator for the Senate Banking committee after charging that he had not been given a free hand.

Mellon was accused in the suit of not only failing to collect $100,000,000 in delinquent taxes from the steamship lines but with placing the government in such a position that it was forced to refund some $10,000,000.

Also Asks Interest
The suit also asks interest on the $220,000,000 which would bring the total damages up to many more millions. Action was based on a statute of 1863, making federal officials liable for double the amount of damages under the statute a citizen may sue in behalf of the United States, with whatever amounts collected going to the Treasury.

Olson's attorneys alleged that the Treasury officials wrongfully permitted the steamship companies to make amended tax returns based on the Revenue Act of 1921 instead of the acts of 1916, 1917, and 1918.

The suit charged that Mellon conferred with steamship officials in March, 1927, for the purpose of assisting said companies in attempts to defeat the claim of the United States.

same in Illinois as is exacted by the federal government, where they are under severe penalty, required to file a schedule. It places the responsibility squarely on the shoulders of the taxpayer and does not shift it over to the assessor.

Give Assessor Power
"Second the assessor has the power to place property on the tax books and then to subpoena individuals into court to see that their property is scheduled in full. It gives to the assessor both power and weapons with which to uncover hidden taxable property.

"Third, any person or persons may certify to the assessor of properties that are not taxed. If the assessor fails to uncover this taxable property he may be charged with malfeasance in office and removed.

"Fourth, any tampering with the tax books in any county in Illinois will be punishable by a prison sentence. In Cook county, testimony before the Senate at Springfield has shown 72 per cent of the taxes placed on the books has been 'rubbed off.' Taxes and votes have been exchanged by precinct political captains who remove the taxes from the books. Every hamlet in Illinois has its tax dodgers, but we find this condition far more aggravated in Cook county.

THE JEHOI DRIVE—IF IT WERE IN U. S.

Comparison With Map of United States Shows Scope of Military Problem And Territories at Stake

As triumphant Japanese troops drive swiftly into Jehoi province, the scope of the military operation is well shown by the above map, in which the Japanese Islands in their relation to Jehoi and the whole of Manchuria is superimposed on the map of the United States. It is as if U. S. troops were to start from Jacksonville (Tokio), sail to Houston (Korea), travel to southeastern New Mexico and fight on a battle front that stretches from there north almost to the Colorado border. Tsitsihar, scene of last year's fighting in Manchukuo, would be west of Omaha. The territory of the new Manchukuo state plus Jehoi is an area that would include all of South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and substantial parts of North Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Texas, Missouri and Iowa. Peiping, capital of China, is close by the Jehoi front, corresponding relatively to El Paso, Texas.

quote the following figures: in Cook county in 1931, the telephone and telegraph companies and their immense properties in a city of four million persons were taxed $108,000. In my county, Bureau, with a population of 39,000 people, the telephone and telegraph companies properties were taxed $709,000. It is estimated that there are thirty billions of untaxed properties in Illinois. One-fifth of the population of this state is paying the taxes, which are resulting high for those who pay.

Taxation Unjust
"The question in Illinois today is not high taxes but unjust taxation. I voted against the sales tax and spoke against that bill. The speaker here called attention to an instance in which a Chicago jurist, mandamus the Board of Review to place fifteen billions of taxes on the tax books, which, he said, had been appealed to the Supreme Court where it now rests.

"The sales tax bill proposes a tax on foodstuffs which means, to the poor man, pay or starve. In my humble opinion, it is a breeder of Communism in Illinois, and I warn you against this form of legislation. My opposition to this bill brought a protest from the school teachers to place fifteen billions of taxes on the tax books, which, he said, had been appealed to the Supreme Court where it now rests.

"Organizations such as this are demanding of the legislators at Springfield that justice be done. These are serious days not only in the nation but in Illinois as well. Unless justice in legislation which is being passed, looks after the interests of the little man as well as the big man, a dangerous situation confronts us and it is high time for serious thought."

Recalls Demonstration
In this connection, Senator Gunning called attention to the demonstration in Springfield a few weeks ago when hundreds of people appeared in the lobbies and offices.

"I am in favor of the income tax bill on our statute books. I know of no other form of taxation that places a tax on man's blessings than the income tax bill. The constitution of the state of Illinois has not been changed so we can keep pace with changing conditions but we are doing the best we can to equalize the tax burdens.

Senator Gunning was generously applauded at the close of his remarks and for several minutes answered numerous questions. With reference to the sales tax bill, he stated that many who voted for this measure did so believing that it was a replacement tax, adding that he had been informed that the original bill was being slaughtered in the legislature.

In response to a question of his opinion of the Mississippi sales tax law, Senator Gunning stated that he had listened to the address of the Governor of Mississippi last week and that he had concluded that the Mississippi sales tax bill could not be applied to the state of Illinois. The Mississippi Governor, the speaker said, had remarked that there was much opposition to the plan in that state where the conditions to be dealt with are far from those as exist today in Illinois. He defined the Mississippi sales tax bill in applying it to Illinois by stating that there are two

TEACHERS TOLD TO GO ON WAR- PATH FOR WAGE

National Education Association Demands Militant Front

Minneapolis, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A commission which declared the profession had been "meek long enough" urged American educators today to go on the warpath against those who would make children the victims of the depression.

A fighting campaign for public support in ferreting out the attackers, directed by a commission already set up, was advocated in a report presented by the Department of Superintendence, National Education Association.

So serious did the executive boards of the department and the association, parent body, deem the crisis caused by fund reduction that they ordered continued indefinitely the joint emergency commission which made the report.

That group, of which John K. Norton of Columbia University is chairman, was created in January. It was the first created by the group since the World War, when an emergency commission was set up to help solve pressing problems.

At the same time the lay committee of the department, functioning as a liaison agency between the profession and the public, charged in a report today there appeared to be an organized attempt "by those who control great wealth to cripple the public school system of America."

The lay unit, with Superintendent Charles S. Meek of Toledo, O., as chairman, likewise appealed for public support of educators seeking to maintain high standards.

SMALL SCHOOLS FIGHT
Chicago, Feb. 28.—(AP)—Prof. S. C. Ratcliffe of Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, told officials of 30 schools that Illinois taxpayers were paying $312 each annually for the education of students in state-endowed institutions.

As a result, he declared that privately endowed colleges and universities in the state faced extinction as they were not able to compete with "the nominal tuition of $70 to $100 a year" in the University of Illinois and the free tuition in the Teacher's Colleges.

Ratcliffe appeared yesterday before college and university administrative officers meeting under auspices of the Federation of Illinois Colleges at DePaul University.

President W. F. Aydelotte informed the gathering that next Monday evening the speakers would be Dr. Warren G. Murray, managing officer of the Dixon state hospital; Dr. E. S. Murphy of this city, member of the county tuberculosis sanatorium board of directors; and Dr. Frank M. Banker of Franklin Grove, Lee county coroner.

The association by a unanimous vote, adopted a resolution opposing the sales tax bill and offering amendments, copies of the resolution to be forwarded to the Representatives and Senator from this district.

MORE CATTLE AND HOGS ON ILLINOIS
FARMS LAST YEAR

Numbers Of Other Animals Showed Some Decrease In 1932

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—
An increase in the numbers of cattle and hogs on Illinois farms during 1932 and a decrease in the numbers of horses, mules and sheep is shown in the annual livestock report of the Illinois and Federal departments of agriculture.
The report was as follows:

"The combined numbers of mules, horses, cattle, hogs and sheep of all ages on farms are 5.6 per cent larger than the state total a year ago. The condition of livestock is reported satisfactory quite generally.
Horses and colts represent the only class of livestock that does not show a lower average value per head than a year ago. The total value of all classes of livestock on farms is about $27,000,000 or 16 per cent less than a year ago and totals $19,312,000 compared with $166,781,000 last year and $235,280,000 on January 1, 1931. This survey of Illinois livestock of all ages on farms January 1, 1933 shows increases of 4 per cent for all cattle, 2 per cent for milk cows which are included with all cattle numbers, and 10 per cent in the number of hogs as compared with the number on January 1, 1932. Horse numbers decreased 4 per cent, mules 2 per cent and sheep 1 per cent.

"A substantial increase in hog numbers on Illinois farms this year follows an increase of 11 per cent a year ago. This increase resulted from a moderate increase in the spring pig crop, a heavy increase in the fall pig crop, and a slower market movement than usual due to favorable feeding ratios and large supplies of feed. Cholera losses, while heavier than usual during the fall and did not total as heavy as for the 1931 season. In the Corn Belt states the heavy increase in hog numbers east of the Mississippi River was largely offset by decreased numbers in most of the states west of the river. Illinois had 5,390,000 hogs on farms this year
compared with 4,900,000 last year
and 4,415,000 on January 1, 1931. The hog numbers total 60,716,000 against 59,078,000 a year ago and 54,399,000 on January 1, 1931.

"The number of all cattle on Illinois farms increased 4 per cent during the past year. Increases of 2 per cent are reported for milk cows
and heifers two years old and over and 5.7 per cent for other cattle.
There was also an increase of about 2 per cent in the number of heifer calves over one year old kept for milk during 1932. The number of all cattle on farms in the state is placed at 2,455,000 head this year compared with 2,361,000 a year ago
and 2,265,000 on January 1, 1931.
This is the fifth successive year
that all cattle numbers have shown an increase in the state. The number of milk cows and milk heifers two years old and over 1,111,000 head against 1,089,000 last year and 1,059,000 for the previous year. U. S. cattle numbers are estimated at 5,129,000 compared with 4,656,000 last year and 4,609,000
on January 1, 1931. U. S. Milk cow numbers total 25,136,000 against 24,469,000 last year and 23,576,000 in 1931. The number of heifer calves kept for milk for the country as a whole at 4,641,000 head is about the same as the number saved a year ago.

"The number of sheep and lambs
on Illinois farms is placed at 699-
000 compared with 749,000 last year
and 725,000 on January 1, 1931. U. S.
sheep and lamb numbers total 5,163,000 head against 5,321,000 a year ago and 52,599,000 for the preceding year.

"Horse and mule numbers continue to decline at about the same rate as for recent years in Illinois.
Colt numbers have not been sufficient to replace deaths of old horses. The present economic necessity for additional horse power has resulted in a market revival of interest in horse breeding and a substantial increase is expected in the 1933 colt crop. The number of horses on Illinois farms is placed at 742,000 compared with 773,000
last year and 805,000 for January 1, 1931. Mule numbers in the state total 126,000 against 129,000 last year and 132,000 in 1931. U. S.
Horse numbers are placed at 12-
163,000 compared with 12,641,000
and 13,168,000 for the two preceding years. U. S. mule numbers total 4,981,000 against 5,089,000 and 5-226,000 head reported as of January 1 for the 1932 and 1931 seasons.

Farm Radio

Dr. John R. Mohler, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, will open a new series of weekly Farm and Home Hour reports on results of scientific research, in the program of Wednesday, March 8.
Doctor Mohler will review in his weekly reports recent discoveries of veterinarians and animal hus-bandmen that will assist farmers in meeting 1933 conditions.

In the program of Friday, March 10, Dr. A. G. McCall, in charge of soil investigations, will tell how farmers can maintain soil fertility

Noted Poultry Authority Will Speak In Dixon

PROF. WALTER KRUECK

An educational meeting of special interest to poultry raisers, and to which the public is invited, will be held Thursday at the L. & G. Feed Co. store here at 7:30 P. M. It has been announced that Prof. Walter B. Krueck, formerly of Purdue University, and now in the service department of Allied Mills, Inc., has been secured as the speaker and will discuss poultry production problems of timely interest to everybody. Prof. Krueck is widely known as an authority on nutrition and is a very forceful speaker with a real message.

This meeting is being sponsored by the L. & G. Feed Co., Dixon.
Prof. Krueck was born and reared on a farm in Milwaukee county, Wisconsin. He has had extensive experience in managing and operating successfully a large stock farm and he thoroughly understands exhibiting, feeding, and breeding of livestock and poultry.
He graduated from the University of Wisconsin and taught animal husbandry and did extension work at Purdue university, Indiana, for four years. Prof. Krueck also had three years of experience as county agent in Tippecanoe county, Indiana.

During the time Prof. Krueck was doing county agent work, the boys and girls in his county under his direction won more state fair premiums than any other county in the state.

With his background of practical farming experience, and scientific agricultural knowledge, he fully appreciates farmers' problems and is well qualified to give sound, practical, helpful information.

Since 1927 Prof. Krueck has conducted extensive educational meetings in twenty-seven different states, and he has become widely known for his interesting lectures on many different agricultural subjects. He also writes a great many articles for the press and answers thousands of letters from feeders, who write and ask for his help on their poultry and livestock problems.

at the smallest possible expenditure.

The week's programs will include also reports on the market
situation for livestock, on weather conditions as they affect farming operations, on poultry brooding
methods, and on seasonal operations in the home and garden, as well as the weekly review of farm science news by M. S. Eisenhower, Director of Information.

The program for the week follows:

MONDAY, MARCH 6 — "March Hog Markets," C. A. Burmeister, Bureau of Agricultural Economics;
"March Lamb Markets," C. L. Harlan, Bureau of Agricultural Economics; "Efficiency in Brooding Chicks," A. R. Lee, Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

TUESDAY, MARCH 7 — "The Garden Calendar," W. R. Beattie, Bureau of Plant Industry; "The Household Calendar," Ruth Van Deman and Fanny W. Yeatman, Bureau of Home Economics;
"March Cattle Markets," C. V.
Whalin, Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8 — "February Weather," J. B. Kinser, Weather Bureau; "Science in Livestock Production," John R. Mohler, Bureau of Animal Industry.

THURSDAY, MARCH 9 — "Uncle Sam's Forest Rangers."

FRIDAY, MARCH 10 — "Farm
Science News of the Week," M. S.
Eisenhower, Office of Information;
"Keeping Up Soil Fertility," A. G.
McCall, Bureau of Chemistry and Soils.

The National Farm and Home
Hour is broadcast from 11:30 a. m.
to 12:30 p. m., Central Standard
Time by stations WOC and KYW.

VISIBLE GRAIN SUPPLY

New York, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes in bushels: wheat decreased 2,877,000;
corn increased 1,107,000; oats decreased 232,000; rye decreased 11,000; barley decreased 55,000.

FARMERS' UNION
TO FIX PRICES
IS CRYING NEED

A Prominent Member Of Taxpayers League
Presents Plan

Charleston, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—
A farmers' union with price fixing powers is the crying need of the farmer, in the opinion of Charles A. Hutton, prominent retired farmer and executive member of the Taxpayers' League. Mr. Hutton has presented a plan for such an organization to the Taxpayers' League and to members of the Farm Bureau,
he said.

His plan proposes that members agree to hold their wheat for at least $1 a bushel, corn for at least 50 cents a bushel, and oats for 35 cents; that they agree on a selling price for best grades of cattle at not less than 12 cents and hogs
not less than 7 cents.

Realizing that financial aid may be necessary in order that some farmers can hold their produce, Hutton proposes a financing plan
as follows: In addition to a $2 membership fee, each member of the union will be assessed 10 cents
on every acre of black land he owns, and 5 cents on every acre of clay land, less productive soil.
Only persons who own or operate
at least 40 acres of land will be eligible to membership, under the proposed plan.

"If every eligible farmer in Coles county would join such an organization under this plan, a pool of $30,000 would be raised," said Mr.
Hutton. "Out of this fund, our county organization would make such emergency loans to members
as were necessary, and a chattel mortgage would be taken on the produce which the farmer would otherwise be forced to sell."

The plan proposes for a fine of $1,000 in the event that a member shall sell his produce contrary to agreement with the union.

According to the plan proposed by Mr. Hutton, the organization would have a county executive board with a representative from each township in the county, a state board with one member from each county, and a national board with one representative from each state.

"Existing farm organizations have succeeded in teaching the farmer how to make his land more productive, but they have not aided in price setting," declared Mr. Hutton.
"I believe the time has come for such an organization as I am suggesting. In addition to setting equitable prices, such a union would deal with the problem of surplus."

Mr. Hutton says the plight of the middle-west farmer is almost unbelievable. "Dozens of the most substantial farmers of our immediate area have been quietly, without fussing or shouting, forced into bankruptcy during the past two years."

"It was the big farmer, with a mortgage on his land, who was hardest hit. The combination of high taxes on a large acreage, interest on a mortgage and corn at 12 cents and other produce on a similar scale was too much for him. The small farmer, with no loan on his land, has managed to get by in most instances."

"In Seven Hickory township in Coles county, called 'The Gold Dollar Township' because it is considered the best land in the wealthiest agricultural part of the county, most farmers have gone broke in any other township in the county. There have been nearly a dozen bankruptcy cases among prominent farmers in that one township. Land that drew offers of $500 an acre in war times will not sell for $75 an acre there now."

In the majority of cases, it has been the deficiency judgment following foreclosures that has worked the greatest hardship on the formerly prosperous farmer, in the opinion of Mr. Hutton. "Any plan that will make the farm satisfy the mortgage in the case of a foreclosure will be a step toward giving the farmer a fair deal."

Four Counties Of Illinois On List

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)— Four Illinois counties are among the 50 counties of the United States ranking highest in the production of farm crops and livestock products.

The census bureau in issuing its list of the first fifty counties as determined by the agricultural census of 1930, based on production of the previous year, showed Mc-Lean county as ranking thirty-
first, with a total value of $16,172-210, with the four principal products being corn, oats, chickens
and eggs, and dairy products.

LaSalle county ranked thirty-ninth with a total production of $14,868,129, with the same four principal crops.

Champaign county was forty-second in rank with a total of $14-365,667 with the same crops.

Livingston county was forty-third with a production of $13, 314,900.

By EDWARD CORNELLIS
FEEDING COWS IN WINTER

Roughage grown on the farm where it is fed is usually a cheaper source of nutrients than are grains and mill feeds. The best practice, therefore, is to feed cows
in milk all the good-quality hay
they will consume without unnecessary waste. Coarse hays are to be fed liberally and the refused portions given to dry stock or young stock to pick over.

A larger consumption of hay is secured by feeding it three times a day rather than once or twice. The morning and evening feedings are usually fed after silage and grain
have been consumed. Dusty hay should not be thrown down to the milking barn or fed just previous to milking.

Corn silage makes an excellent supplement to hay. Good-quality silage is fed at the rate of about 3 pounds daily for each 100 pounds of animal weight or 25 to 40 pounds daily. Poor-quality silage must be fed with caution. In no case should so much silage be fed that it prevents the animals from eating hay freely. The practice of feeding corn silage as the only roughage is not recommended.

Roughage alone is not sufficient for cows that are expected to give large amounts of milk. A grain mixture suitable for use with the particular kind of hay or other roughage used should be fed in proportion to milk yield. To secure large yields of milk and to insure economy of feeding it is essential that the grain mixture be weighed or measured carefully for each cow. This is one of the most important of all operations in the management of the dairy herd.

The milk of each cow is weighed for one day a week, at least, and a chart made showing the number of pounds or quarts of grain mixture each cow should receive at each feeding. This chart should be consulted each time the grain mixture is weighed or measured, and should be revised every week or as often as the milk yields of the cow change appreciably.

On the afternoon of February
24th, at 3:30 o'clock, the Dixon
Chapter of F. F. A., held a meeting to elect officers for the coming semester. Officers were elected for every position except that of president and secretary. These two have terms of one year. The officers of last semester were:

Pres.—Donald Miller.
Vice Pres.—Edward Cornells.
Secretary—Wilmer Gerdes.
Treasurer—Fred Benson.
Reporter—Byron Weidman.
Program Chairman—Elton Williams.

The officers for this semester
are:
President—Donald Miller.

W. F. PRIEBE'S
WEEKLY LETTER
to POULTRY RAISERS

Reports that have come to me
from the country show that laying hens are being sold in large numbers.

More hens are being sold than were a year ago—and more than
have been for several months.
This is true not just in one section
but all over the middle west—Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Illinois.

I realize that everyone is hard-
up. But to me it seems utterly folly to sell "the goose that lays the golden egg." Has the present price entirely blotted out the memory of what eggs were worth last fall?

Just stop and think what it will mean: If the majority of farmers are selling their laying hens, then the few of you who have the courage to keep yours will get double dividends later on.

I shall write nothing further today. That one thing should give you plenty to think about.

Sincerely yours,
W. F. Priebe

Weekly Review of Agriculture
by Farmers' Paper

Chicago, Ill., —(AP)— Prices for most farm products were steady to slightly lower during the third week of February, while another banking crisis revealed further ravages of the business depression.

"The weekly market review of the Prairie Farmer said. Only minor changes were reported in industrial activity and employment.

"Cattle prices have been fluctuating rather widely with lower grades showing greatest stability,"
the review said. "Every good upturn brings in a raft of well-finished steers, indicating that the country is still fairly well loaded and is glad to cash in at something better than the extreme low prices of the season. Trying to get in a good bulge is about all the hope the situation offers, as there is practically no chance that a sustained rise will start for some time yet."

"Hog receipts continue light and prices are holding much of their gain since the turn of the year.
Fairly close clearance during the next few weeks of hogs reaching market finish appears advisable
as the crest of this rise probably will be passed before the end of March."

"Lambs are coming freely from the Colorado and Western Nebraska feeding area and prices will do well to hold the current level.

Wool demand has slackened further. Asking prices on better grades have been maintained but inferior grades are weak.

"Wheat prices have fluctuated in an extremely narrow range for a month. Late February and early March usually is a weak period in Europe as the recent heavy shipments of new Argentine wheat will arrive. Prices in the United States already are well above an export level. Total supplies for export probably afford a wider margin over the needs of importers than ever before. While prices usually are weak in March, April tends to be strong. Pressure from southern hemisphere wheat in Europe begins to subside, domestic primary receipts usually decrease,
and the arrival of growing weather reveals the extent of winter damage to the new crop.

"Corn prices have been strengthened slightly by process of prohibition repeal legislation, although much time must elapse before actual demand for corn will be affected. The increase in the cattle and hog population shows the tendency to expand farm consumption of corn. Prices in the next few weeks probably will be strongly influenced by wheat.

"Butter prices continue nervous,
and have lost part of their midwinter upturn. Storage stocks are light, low prices are stimulating consumption and production will not increase much for the next few weeks. Prices probably will hold up favorably well in the immediate future, but any pronounced change
probably will be downward.

"Egg production slackened during the February cold spell, but came back quickly. Prices are so near the spring storing level that fluctuations probably will be rather narrow.

"Poultry prices usually strengthen as receipts fall during the heavy laying season."

CUT ACREAGES
IN GRAINS: IN-CREASE LEGUME

Voluntary Grain Reduction Plan To Be Effective

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 28.— What amounts to a voluntary grain acreage reduction program will be put into effect by Illinois farmers this spring through a marked increase in the 1.5 million acres or more of legumes they already are growing,
it is announced by J. C. Hackle-man, crops extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Conferences which he held with farmers and farm advisers in 12 counties representing all parts of the state disclosed a decided trend toward an increase in legume acreage, which would operate to reduce the acreage in grains, Hackleman reported.

"This is just another example of how farmers are adjusting and believing their production as a result of the research and extension work
of the college," Hackleman said.
For instance, Illinois crops had a farm value of $321,769,000 in the last census, but some of the most important ones were crops that were new ones 25 years ago. Alfalfa, soybeans and sweet clover are examples. On the other hand farmers of the state have reduced their corn acreage 12 1/2 per cent, or about one-eighth, in the past 34 years and their wheat acreage 62 per cent
since the war.

"These adjustments in production
to meet changing conditions have been made possible largely by the college's research and extension
work with crop rotation systems, improved and adapted varieties of new crops and sound cultural methods.

"Alfalfa, of which Illinois farmers already are growing more than 240,000 acres, probably will come in for the biggest increase because of its outstanding merit.

"Although they are going to increase their acreage, farmers are going to be more careful than ever
not to waste money by putting seed
on acid soils. This is especially important in the case of alfalfa.
There was a relatively short seed crop of alfalfa in 1932, with the result that the price will be proportionately more expensive than
for some other crop seed.

"Farmers can make sure that the land is adapted to the legumes and thereby save themselves losses of money and seed by using the soil
tests developed by the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.
The tests are very simple, the cost is negligible and the savings are significant. Many farmers have reported saving not only alfalfa but also red clover seedlings by care in the testing and mapping of their soils."

PLAN YOUR WORK
AND WORK YOUR PLAN
By Prof. Paul G. Riley

Last year, a poultryman in Illinois housed 235 heavy breed pullets late in September. During the three months of October, November and December 1932, these pullets produced eggs valued at $274.56, at a feed cost of $37.75, and with a return above feed costs of $236.81. His production record was 41 per cent in October, 66 per cent in November, and 70 per cent in December.

He made this profit because his birds were hatched early. From February 15 to April 15, is the proper time to hatch heavy breeds
and for Leghorns a month later is advisable. Next, he fed his chicks a good ration from the time they were hatched straight through the growing season and through the laying period. Third, he brooded them in a good, clean brooder house on clean ground. Fourth, these chicks were produced from a strain which had more than fifteen years of trespassing and breeding
back of them for egg production.
Consequently, they had produced bred into them.

These pullets were housed in September, so that the birds and

COOPERATION IS COUNTRY'S NEED SAYS PRESIDENT

Tells Republican Com- mittee Partisanship Must Be Subdued

Washington, Feb. 28.—(AP)—President Hoover, in a letter designed to outline the future stand of the Republican party, Monday suggested to the Executive Committee of the Republican National Committee that "in these times of co-operation and not partisanship is the need of the country."

The President added, however, that he felt the Republican party should carefully scrutinize and debate proposals put forward to aid the country, opposing those "which will hurt the progress and welfare of the country."

Mr. Hoover outlined what he called a party platform upon which "all Americans can stand without partisanship," including insistence upon sound currency, restraint upon federal spending and insistence upon government integrity as to its obligations.

Reply Is Sent

The President's letter was read behind closed doors to members of the executive committee by Chairman Everett Sanders, and a reply was drafted immediately and dispatched to the White House, signed by 15 of the committeemen.

Their letter expressed "the deep appreciation of the loyal members of our party to your unceasing and effective labors in behalf of the American people."

It extended congratulations to Mr. Hoover on the conduct of his campaign, adding that "your straightforward penetrating discussion of public issues indelibly impressed the fundamentals of sound government upon the millions of voters in whose hands rests the future of our country."

"The supporters of our great party," the letter said, "will continue to look to you for leadership in these difficult and dangerous days and we of the party organization are relying upon your counsel and cooperation in solving the many problems before us."

Insurance Bill Is Called Dole Attempt

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The compulsory insurance bill pending before the State Assembly was branded as an attempt to establish a state dole by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association in a bulletin mailed to its members.

The bill provides payments not to exceed $15 weekly to unemployed persons from a fund to be created by employers. Persons out of work would not be eligible to payments for more than 16 weeks in any year.

The association in its bulletin said adoption of the bill, introduced by Senator Richey V. Graham, Cicero, and Representative Thomas J. Stack, Peoria, would lead to the most extensive and powerful bureaucracy in the state.

FOR MOOSEHEART P. M.

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Frank W. Milgate, Francis D. Green and William J. Golden have been certified by the Civil Service Commission as eligible for Postmaster of Mooseheart, Ill. It was considered likely here that appointment of one of the three would be left to the incoming Democratic administration.

World Fair Points to Path of Tomorrow

At right—The graceful east tower of the "Sky-Ride," now rearing its head 628 feet into the clouds. Its twin is being built across the lagoons 2,000 feet away. Below—The ultra modern rocket cars are double decked and will hang suspended in mid-air, affording a bird's eye view of the exposition. They were designed and built by the Goodyear Zeppelin Corp.

Chicago, February 28.—(Special)—Pointing the way to the more economical bridge of tomorrow, the twin towers of the giant $1,000,000 Sky-Ride, are rearing their heads 628 feet into the clouds to provide the supreme thrill of Chicago's World's Fair.

As an amusement, the Sky-Ride will be the most breathtaking experience at the exposition, but its deeper significance will have a tremendously important effect on American industrial life.

Sky-Ride, in the opinion of leading engineers and bridge designers, is the most important development to date in the design of suspension bridges. This design, they say, after its successful demonstration at the future to carry heavy vehicular traffic and passengers across rivers and ravines.

Higher than any Chicago building, the Sky-Ride will consist of twin towers placed 2,000 feet apart. Elevators are being installed to whisk passengers sixty stories aloft, from which height it will be possible to see four states, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin.

At the 200 foot level, the towers will be connected by stout steel cables from which fascinating traveling back and forth across the World's Fair lagoons. The span between the towers will be second in size only to that of the Hudson River bridge at New York, and 4,400 passengers an hour can be handled in the rocket cars.

The undertaking requires the efforts of a large corps of engineers, bridge builders, steel producers and the manufacturers of elevators. The companies at work on it are, the John A. Roebling's Sons Co., the Otis Elevator Co., the Inland Steel Co., the Mississippi Valley Structural Steel Co., and the Great Lakes Dredge and Dock Co.

These great companies, all of them key units in America's industrial life, are pooling their efforts and money in the enterprise to demonstrate a new idea in construction and thus provide new outlets for labor and materials.

Dr. D. B. Steinman of Robinson and Steinman, New York bridge designers, who, in the past four years, have twice received the annual award of the American Institute of Steel Construction, said:

"This structure will mark the opening of a new era in bridge designing. It is much cheaper to erect, it can be built faster, it will enable us to build longer spans and it will be just as practical as the standard type bridge now generally used."

"To make it usable as an inexpensive means of transporting heavy vehicular traffic across rivers and ravines, we would merely have to change the size of the cables and substitute the rocket cars for large platforms which would be swung through the air with ease. In effect, it would be an aerial ferry."

His opinion has been confirmed by the engineering staff of the John A. Roebling's Sons Co., of Trenton, N. J., builders of the Brooklyn Bridge and most of the famous suspension bridges of the world.

It is also shared by Joshua D'Esposito, famous Chicago engineer and builder, who believes that the Sky-Ride is pointing the way to the bridge of tomorrow. He said, "We are entering a new field in the designing of bridges and towers of the Sky-Ride will remain forever in the minds of engineers as a monument to a new principle."

Sergeant Killed In 2,000-Ft. Leap

Riverside, Calif., Feb. 27.—(AP)—A Sergeant was killed and an enlisted man slightly injured at the army's March Field aircraft station here when three men jumped from a bombing plane as it was flying at an altitude of 2,000 feet.

The dead man was identified as Sergeant Milo by army officers who declined to give further information as to the identity of those figuring in the accident.

Income Taxes Explained By Commissioner

BAD DEBTS—YEAR IN WHICH DEDUCTIBLE

To be allowed as a deduction from gross income, a bad debt must have been determined by the taxpayer to be worthless within the taxable year for which it is claimed, and where books are kept, it also must have been charged off within the same year. The necessity for this provision is obvious. If a debt could be deducted without the requirement that it be charged off the taxpayer's books, the certainty of its worthlessness would be open to question. Neither the taxpayer nor the Government could be certain that a debt would not be claimed more than once.

If a bad debt were allowed as a deduction, without regard to the year when it became worthless, such charges could be accumulated to be deducted in a year when there was a large income. However, a taxpayer who has erroneously charged off a debt in a year after that in which it was determined to be worthless may file an amended return for the year in which the debt became worthless and was not charged off.

The burden is upon the taxpayer to show that a debt claimed as a deduction was without value during the taxable year. A statement showing the propriety of any deductions for bad debts. If in the exercise of sound business judgment a taxpayer concludes, after making every reasonable effort to determine whether there is likelihood of recovery, that the debt is of no value, deduction for such debt is allowable. Court action as proof that the debt is worthless is not essential.

It is optional with the taxpayer in a year prior to that in which a debt becomes wholly worthless, to take a deduction for partial loss if partial worthlessness occurs. If it can be shown that upon maturity of a bond, mortgage, or note evidencing a debt it will not be paid in full, the partial loss is deductible.

HULL-WALCOTT MORTGAGE BILL IS LAID ASIDE

Opposition In Upper House Showed It Couldn't Pass

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Senate today laid aside the Hull-Walcott mortgage bill after strong opposition made it appear the measure could not pass this session.

Washington, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Senator Borah declared that if the government continued its present loan policy, it may have to take control of the railroads and insurance companies and make the Soviet government "ashamed of itself" in comparison.

Breaking into the debate on the Hull-Walcott measure to grant a two-year moratorium on foreclosures of farm and small urban home mortgages, the Idaho Republican said "we may not take over the farms right away, but we are undoubtedly in a position where we are going to have to take over the railroads if we continue our present course."

"And not only the railroads, but insurance companies as well," he added. "We'll make the Soviet government ashamed of itself."

Borah did not express his views on the Hull-Walcott bill, but his statement was viewed by colleagues as warning against such legislation at this time.

Senator Glass (D. Va.) had thrown his influence strongly against the bill.

TO OPEN WATERWAY

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Illinois-to-New Orleans deep waterway will be officially opened next Wednesday with an inspection trip by the government boat "Governor" from Lockport to Peoria, Ill., U. S. engineers announced today.

On board the "Governor," 120-foot craft, will be group of government officials headed by E. H. Beechey, engineer in charge of the channel construction work.

Development Of Various Branches Of Our Government

(This is one of a series of articles written for The Associated Press by M. H. Hunter, professor of economics at the University of Illinois, discussing one of the foremost problems of the current day—the development of various types of local government in Illinois and the comparison of their costs.)

By M. H. HUNTER

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 28.—(AP)—The combined area of Calhoun, Scott, Morgan and Menard counties, all non-township counties, is about the same as that of Adams County. A county with twenty-three townships. The combined population in each group, also, is practically the same.

In the group of non-township counties the number of elective officials is 48 while in Adams County it is 78, county and township combined. In the group of counties there are but four taxing units, while in Adams county there are twenty-four. In the group the per capita taxes in 1931 were $3.49 while in Adams county they were $4.59. The cost per square mile in the group was $153.37 while in Adams county it was $342.26. The total taxes levied in the group were $214,412.37, while in Adams county the total was $288,179.82.

The population of the eleven non-township counties, Union, Pulaski, Johnson, Massac, Pope, Menard, Hardin, Wabash, Alexander, Perry and Randolph is about the same as that of the seven township counties, Green, Boone, Macoupin, Clinton, Montgomery, Washington and Kendall. Some comparisons of these groups may be indicative of relative costs.

In the group of eleven counties the total taxes levied in 1931 were $317,233.47, in the group of seven counties, $653,188.40. The per capita cost in the former group was $1.84 while in the latter it was $3.90. The cost per square mile in the former group was $89.30 while in the latter it was $175.07. The number of tax levying bodies, respectively, are 11 and 114 and the number of elective officials 110 and 370.

No general conclusion can be drawn from the above comparisons. They do indicate, however, that the existence of the township adds to the cost of government. Perhaps it is not beyond the duty of the taxpayer to inquire whether he is receiving an added service commensurate with the increase in cost.

CAN'T MARRY FOR YEAR

Chicago, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Judge Daniel P. Trude told 18-year-old James Lombard today to refrain from marrying Miss Rachel Holmes for one year or else go to prison for a term of from one to 14 years.

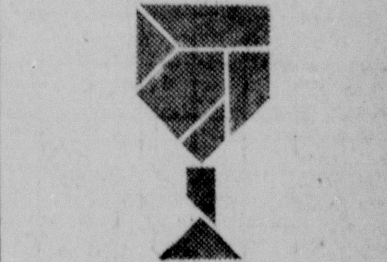

He imposed the sentence for perjury and suspended the sentence on condition that young Lombard, a high school student, adhere to single blessedness. The Judge also told Lombard to go back to school and tell his teachers everything.

At a previous hearing, Lombard testified he and Miss Holmes had been married at Waukegan, and a check of the records there resulted in the perjury charge. Miss Holmes, 22, now is in a psychopathic hospital, her father said.

BURNS FATAL TO CHILD

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Imogene Thomas, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Thomas of Springfield, died today from burns suffered Sunday when her clothing became ignited while she was playing near a bonfire in the rear of her home. The child was burned severely over her entire body, and her clothing burned off before anyone could come to her rescue.

SEVERAL STATES ACT TO PROTECT BANKS' DEPOSITS

Pennsylvania And Ohio Institutions Are Reopened Today

(By The Associated Press.)

Banks in Pennsylvania and Ohio opened for business today fortified by emergency legislation passed since the close of business yesterday.

By a resolution passed and signed at midnight, Pennsylvania banks received power to regulate withdrawals with the approval of the State Banking Secretary. The restrictions, it was provided, will not apply to deposits made after a bank invokes the emergency powers.

Ohio passed two laws giving the Superintendent of Banks unprecedented powers to control withdrawals and slash red tape in liquidation or reopening of closed banks. The laws provide protection for new depositors. Several banks in the state joined the list restricting withdrawals, bringing the number taking such action in Ohio to over 100.

and North Little Rock, Ark., banks restricted withdrawals. The Delaware legislature passed a bill empowering the Banking Commissioner to suspend or postpone payment of accounts by banks if he deems it necessary.

Five banks in Covington, Ky., across the river from Cincinnati, decided to limit withdrawals to five per cent a month.

In Michigan the bookkeeping task involved in getting the two new Ford-backed banks in operation was going ahead, with clerks working in shifts around the clock in an effort to segregate the 1,700,000 accounts that are to be transferred to the new banks. It had been hoped the banks would be opened tomorrow, but the bookkeeping task may necessitate a delay.

Legislation in Maryland remained in committees of the legislature today. Gov. Ritchie stating that while speed is desired, he is even more anxious to provide "a measure which represents the best thought of everybody on the subject."

It is as easy to acquire a good habit as it is to acquire a bad one.

Being a Member of Congress is not by any means a happy job. Even in the best of times occasions arise when he tries to introduce a policy disapproved by the majority of the people of his section of the country, entirely upon his own initiative, whereby his reputation as a successful public official suffers. And often he tries to force something through the dictates of a few, which he may consider injudicious, and which he knows will cause considerable resentment back home. The average Member of Congress gets cussed if he does and cussed if he doesn't.

In some cities there are a lot of people who should talk less and work more.

Inconsistencies are to be found now, as always, in every place and time. Going back to war times, the soldiers did not enlist to grow great in fame, but to defend their country. During the war any citizen anywhere would take exception to any disparaging remark made against our soldiers, but how different it is now! Reminds me of the following words written by Kipling:

"Our God and soldiers we alike adore, When on the brink of ruin, but not before; After deliverance both alike requited— Our God forgotten and our soldiers slighted."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JANET HILL is engaged to ROLF CARLYLE but they do not have enough money to marry. Janet is secretary for BRUCE HAMILTON, advertising manager of Every Home Magazine, and Rolf works for the Atlas Advertising Co. Janet insists they must have $300 in a savings account before they can be married.

HOWARD CRESSY, another employee of the magazine, tries to make dates with Janet but she discourages him. She hurries home from the office one Saturday to prepare a surprise birthday dinner for Rolf. On the way she sees a couple entering the fashionable Brewster Hotel Coffee Shop and at first thinks the young man is Rolf. Afterward she decides she was mistaken.

The dinner party is a success. Rolf tells Janet there is something he wants to talk to her about but later evades and says it was "nothing." He says he cannot see her next day because he is entertaining an out-of-town friend.

Sunday proves to be a gloomy day. Rolf does not telephone. Janet visits with MOLLIE LAMB-REHT, who lives across the hall. She returns to her room and confronts a young man she has never seen before.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V

THE man found words first. "I—I—I—" he stammered, "hope you don't—I mean I didn't mean—that is—I guess I've made a mistake!"

Janet was clutching the pink bathrobe, holding it about her. It was surprise and not fear that held her speechless.

"Who are you?" she demanded. "And what are you doing in my room?"

"I guess I've made a mistake," the young man repeated. His face had grown quite red. "You see I didn't know—"

"But what are you doing here?"

It was certainly not like Janet to use a tone like that. It wasn't like her at all. The words snapped out sharply. Shock probably was responsible for the stern way she eyed the young man.

"I'm—I'm—" he began desperately. "You see I live here?"

"What?"

"Upstairs. On the next floor. My name's Grant—moved in yesterday. I'm terribly sorry about this. You see when I came yesterday the woman in charge—Mrs. Snyder—showed me a room on this floor she said was vacant. I thought this was it. And tonight when the electric light burned out and I couldn't find anyone downstairs to get another I thought I could borrow the light from this room—"

"But it's my room!"

"Well, you see I didn't know that. I thought this was the vacant room. I thought it would be all right to take the light and explain about it tomorrow. I'll—I'll go now. It doesn't matter about the light—"

It was ridiculous to suppose this young man could be a burglar. He seemed more disturbed over the situation than Janet.

More than anything he looked like a young man who has made an extremely embarrassing mistake and is willing to do almost anything to remedy it. Besides Janet remembered Mollie had spoken of a new roomer, Grant—was that the name? Yes, it was.

She would probably have smiled and said she understood, that it was perfectly all right but suddenly Janet remembered what she was wearing. The bathrobe and pajamas! Dignity fled and, striving to recapture it, the sharp note came into her voice again.

"You'd better leave," she said shortly. "And after this please remember this room is not vacant!"

There had been three-quarters of Rolf said, "Get your bonnet, youngster. We're going out to eat."

THE young man moved toward the door. He moved rapidly. For the first time Janet took sketchy note of his appearance. She had observed from the first that he was tall—probably six feet. Now she saw that his shoulders were broad and there was an athletic look about him. Dark hair. Blue eyes.

In the doorway he turned. "Sorry to have bothered you," he mumbled. Suddenly the girl relented. "Wait!" she said. "If you want a light bulb I have an extra one here. It belongs to the house so you can keep it."

She crossed the room, took the bulb from a drawer and brought it to him.

"That's awfully nice of you. Thanks!"

"Not at all. Good night, Mr. Grant."

"Good night."

The door closed. Janet, being feminine, took a quick glance in the mirror to see if she really looked as badly as she feared. She wasn't interested in Mr. Grant. She'd probably never see him again. She just wanted to know.

Before the mirror Janet remembered she hadn't basted the collar and cuffs into her black dress. There was more time for it now than there would be in the morning. She took the dress from the closet, got out needle and thread and set to work.

Rolf Carlyle did not telephone that evening.

It was 4:30 the next afternoon before she heard his voice. Janet had been busy all day. Mondays were always crowded, with Mr. Hamilton in and out of the office, giving his secretary enough work while he was there to more than keep her busy in his absence.

This particular Monday had been nerve-racking. An important piece of copy had been mislaid. There had been three-quarters of an hour of mad scrambling before the pages were discovered. It was just after this—during a moment of blessed relaxation—that the telephone rang. Janet answered and Rolf's voice came to her over the wire.

He said, "Janet? Just thought I'd give you a ring. How's every little thing?"

"Oh, Rolf, I'm glad you called! I'd been wondering about you. Did you have a nice time yesterday?"

"Yesterday? Oh, just about what you'd expect. I was going to call you but there wasn't a chance. Listen, Janet, I'm going to play basketball with the fellows tonight. How about having dinner together tomorrow? O. K.?"

"Of course."

"All right. Meet you at 5:30. At Tracy's." (That was the convenient corner midway between the two offices where they usually met.) "Bye, honey. Be seeing you!"

THE connection was broken. Janet returned to her work but the day's irritations and worries seemed suddenly erased.

As it turned out, Janet Hill and Rolf Carlyle did not have dinner together Tuesday night. At a quarter of 12 next morning Rolf appeared in the Every Home office. Janet, looking up from folding a letter, saw him standing before her.

"Rolf!"

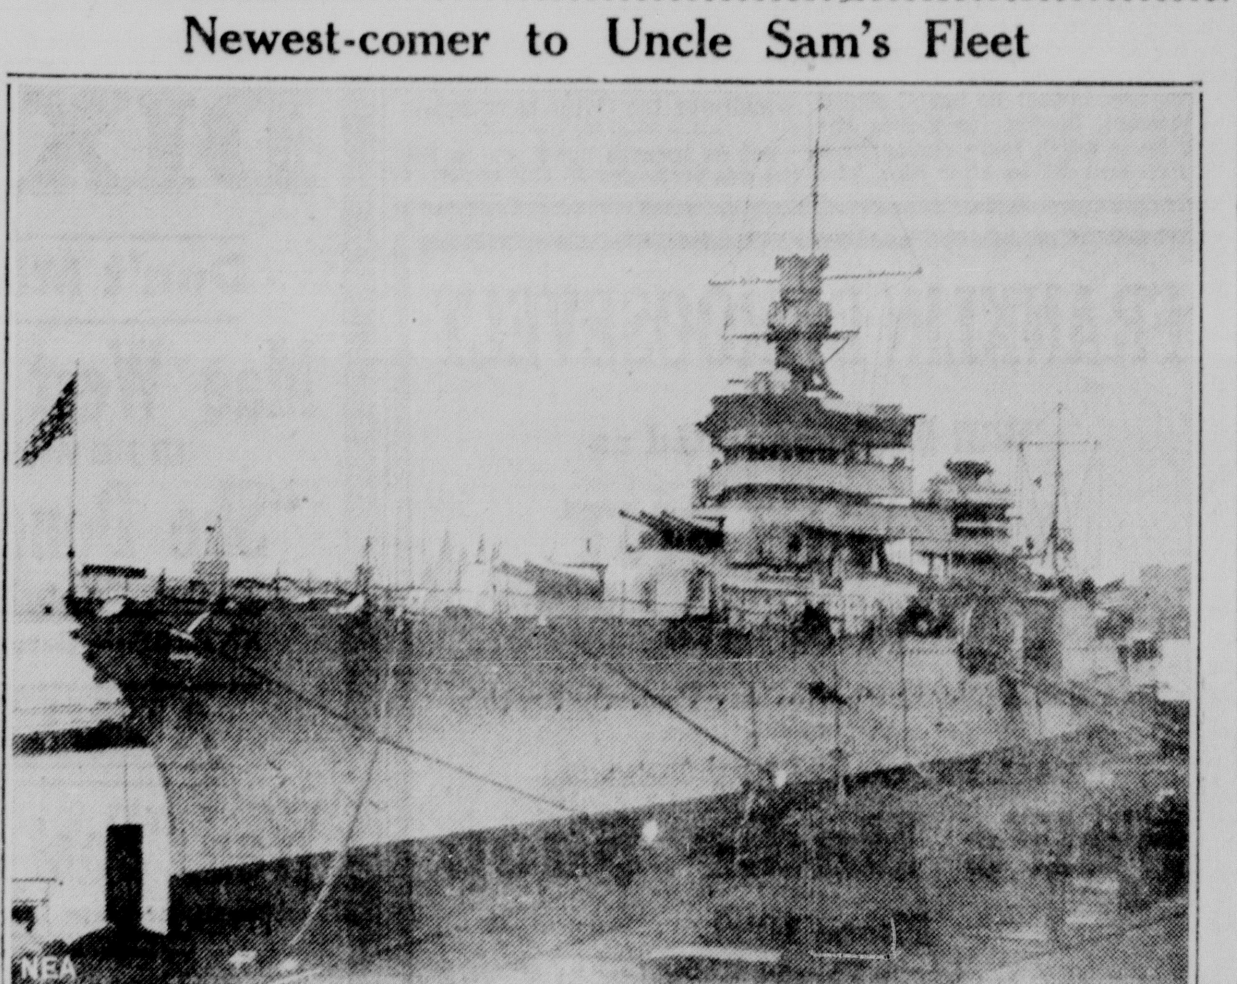

"The same. In person. Get your bonnet, youngster. We're going out to eat."

"But, Rolf—"

"Not a word—not a word! Don't intend to starve yourself, do you? Have to eat. Well then, come along!"

"But it's so early. I never go to lunch until—oh, it is almost 12, isn't it? I suppose it's all right. Mr. Hamilton won't be back until 1:30—"

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS DEMPSEY DUE IN CHICAGO TO TALK OVER BIG FIGHT

Holds Articles For The Schmeling-Baer
Contest

Chicago, Feb. 28 —(AP)— Jack Dempsey, who holds the articles for a bout between Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight champion, and Max Baer of Livermore, Calif., was due in Chicago today to discuss possibilities of making the match a World Fair attraction.

The one time ruler of the heavies had conferences scheduled with George Getz, chairman of the World Fair Sports Committee, and with the Chicago Stadium Operating Company. The Stadium Corporation is in equity receivership and the new operating group has arranged to promote boxing and wrestling in the big west side building.

Dempsey may promote the show through the operating company. It also was indicated that the Madison Square Garden Corporation might have a finger in it, as James J. Johnston, fight matchmaker, is expected in Chicago tomorrow to confer with Dempsey.

Negotiations were virtually complete today for a match between Billy Petrolle, the old but capable Fargo, N. D. lightweight, and Barney Ross, Chicago's contender for honors in the 135 pound division, at the Chicago Stadium March 20. After two weeks of haggling over weights, Petrolle has agreed to scale 138 pounds. He also wants 15 rounds, now possible under Illinois law.

The date of the featherweight match between Varias Milling, Los Angeles Filipino, and Johnny Pena of New York, at the Washington Boulevard Auditorium, has been shifted from March 6 to March 10.

Hopeful of getting the Illinois State Athletic Commission to renew its membership in the National Boxing Association, a delegation from the body was to confer with Joseph E. Triner, chairman of the Illinois Commission, today.

The Illinois group gave up its membership last December 13, while General John V. Clinin was chairman. Triner has indicated Illinois will go its way alone, but the N. B. A. is out to bring it back into the organization, in which it was one of the most important members.

TITLE FIGHT TONIGHT
Los Angeles, Feb. 28—(AP)— Alberto Arizmendi, a sturdy little Aztec who took up fistfights at the age of eight in the bull rings of old Mexico for candy and centavos, will fight Freddie Miller for the featherweight championship of the world tonight.

Baby Arizmendi he was then, and now a 12-year-old veteran of almost 300 bouts, he still is the brown baby of Mexico City.

Miller, a 21-year-old scrapper from Cincinnati, who several months ago snatched his way to a decision over Tommy Paul to win the National Boxing Association feather title, is favored in his first defense of the crown.

The defender has shown more in the gymnasium in the way of sound boxing and hitting ability, which is the reason for the odds of 10 to 9 in his behalf.

Old Pals—And New Pals

Mr. William Harrison Dempsey and Miss Estelle Taylor are going to pick the same cabaret some night—and Hollywood is wondering what will happen then. Pals once, Jack and Estelle are seen much in other company since their divorce. At the left is Dempsey, looking a little plump, with June Gale, movie actress, at one night club. At the right is Estelle, dining at another, with John Warburton, British actor.

BUT DO THEY READ?

Those ball players who can read usually confine their literary pursuits to box scores. . . . It might be a great help if they would look at the other pages of the newspaper once in a while. . . . thus a dispatch appearing the other day on the market page of some newspapers announced that Philip K. Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, planned to increase the wages of his employees in certain units of the chewing gum factory. . . . believing that larger salaries to workers would spur prosperity around that corner. . . . did any of the Cubs read that?

LAZY DAZZY—

The Brooklyn management, replying to furious fans, declares Dazzy Vance is lazy and that is the reason he was peddled to St. Louis. In three years, it is pointed out, Vance won only 40 games in return for salaries totaling $63,000. Last year after the first of August, he did not pitch a game, complaining of a lame arm.

ALL CANT RUN—

Of the 118 horses and fillies nominated for the Kentucky Derby, probably not more than 20 will go to the post. The owners of approximately 100 horses will witness the race.

Gossip About Baseball Stars And Near Stars

BIG DUEL IS ON

Avalon, Calif., Feb. 28—(AP)—The biggest duel for a regular job in the Chicago Cub infield—between shortstops Mark Koenig and Bill Jurgens—was scheduled to start today.

Koenig, whose brilliant work at the end of last season was a big factor in winning the National League championship, arrived on Santa Catalina island yesterday, and Jurgens was due today with the second squad. Jurgens held the job in 1932 until bullet wounds put him out of action. Later Koenig suffered an injury to his right wrist and Jurgens played through most of the world series.

FOR SOX INFIELD

Pasadena, Calif., Feb. 28—(AP)—Manager Lev Fonseca already is at work on what he expects will be the Chicago White Sox infield when the American League season opens.

Without wasting any time, the Sox pilot lined up at first base, with Minter Hayes at second, Luke Appling at shortstop, and Jimmy Dykes, late of the Philadelphia Athletics, at third. Red Kress also is an infield candidate anywhere excepts first base but probably will be moved to the outfield where he finished last season.

TWO GOOD REASONS

Coral Gables, Fla., Feb. 28—(AP)—Jack Quinn, ancient right hander of the Brooklyn Dodgers, has two excellent reasons for not participating in the Dodgers' spring training activities just now.

The first is that he hasn't signed a contract, hoping to induce the club he is worth more money than they've seen fit to offer him. The

BUCKEYES NEED BUT ONE WIN TO BE SURE OF TIE

While the Indications Are Big Ten Cage Title
Will Be Theirs

Chicago, Feb. 28—(AP)—Ohio State today need only one more victory to be assured of no less than a tie for the Western Conference basketball title, and there didn't appear to be any reason to believe they wouldn't get it.

Hauling themselves together after losing their first game of the season to Iowa Saturday night, The Buckeyes last night gave one of their most brilliant demonstrations to soundly defeat Purdue, 29 to 17, at LaFayette. They clamped a tight defense on every Boilermaker except Norm Cotton, who shared 13 of the 17 points with three field goals and three free throws. In fact, Cotton was the only Purdue player to register for the field.

Ohio State has two games left, meeting Wisconsin at Columbus Saturday, and Indiana at Bloomington next Monday. Unless the Badgers or Hoosiers develop unexpected power, Ohio should capture both games and win undisputed possession of the title.

Wildcats Have Chance

Northwestern clung to its chance of nosing out the Buckeyes by walloping Indiana, 45 to 32. The Hoosiers led at the half, but Joe Reiff and Elmer Johnson engaged in a final assault that couldn't be stopped. Reiff collected 15 points and needs only eight more to set a new Big Ten individual scoring record.

Michigan and Iowa also remained in the running for a tie, which could occur if Ohio loses its two remaining contests. Michigan dropped in enough free throws to make up for a deficit in field goals and defeated Minnesota, 21 to 18. The defeated Minnesota's tenth in eleven conference starts.

Iowa also profited from the free throw line to defeat Illinois, 30 to 27. Each team scored from the floor nine times, but the Hawkeyes pitched twelve charity shots, to nine for the Illini.

The league leading Reynolds Wire company team has been further strengthened by the return of John Kennedy from Illinois to help them in their championship drive. The opening game in Wednesday evening's program will see Reynolds pitted against the Dixon Battery Shop, which latter team has been coasting along trailing the others.

HARD LUCK CHAMP
Los Angeles, Feb. 28—(AP)—The training season has barely begun but Travis Jackson, veteran shortstop, already has retained his title as the "hard luck champion" of the New York Giants.

Out practically all of last season with injuries to his knees, Jackson came to camp the other day with his underpinnings in excellent shape. Yesterday he failed to report for practice because of a cold in the head, thus becoming the first casualty of the Giant campaign.

The Fleet's In—After "War" in Pacific

After days of strenuous "war" in the Pacific, the combined Atlantic and Pacific fleets of the Navy are in San Francisco Bay. This air view shows only a part of America's men o'war as they anchored in the waters between San Francisco and Oakland. The fleet, during its maneuvers, practiced air attacks on and defense of coast cities.

LANDIS BEATEN IN HIS BATTLE AGAINST 'FARMS'

Minor Leagues Have Accepted Majors'
New Transfer Rule

Chicago, Feb. 28—(AP)—The long fight of baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis against the "farm" system, today was a lost cause, with the acceptance by the minor leagues of the transfer rule adopted last December by major league club owner.

The new rule will permit major league clubs to release a player on option three times and release him the fourth time to one of its farm clubs. The old rule, in the enforcement of which Landis went to court two years ago, permitted three optional releases, but the fourth release had to be outright to a club not affiliated with the major league team.

Landis contended that the new rule was illegal, until the minors accepted it. The minors were represented by Judge William G. Braham of Durham, N. C., president of the National Association of Minor League Clubs. President William Harridge, Edward G. Barrow of the New York Yankees, and L. C. McEvoy of the St. Louis Browns, sat in for the American League, and the National League representatives were President John A. Heydler and Sam Braden and Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Landis successfully went to court to compel the Browns to release outfielder Fred Bennett, after he had been shifted about among St. Louis subsidiaries three times and was about to be optioned out again.

British Sportsman Challenges Wood

London, Feb. 28—(AJ)—The Royal Motor Yacht Club, acting for H. Scott Palmer, today cabled a challenge to Detroit for the Harmsworth trophy, premier motorboating prize held by Gar Wood.

Palmer, motorboat designer and constructor, has designed a boat with which he will attempt to lift the trophy Wood has successfully defended against previous British challengers.

The races probably will be held in Detroit on Lake St. Clair early in September. Today was the last day for filing a challenge.

Gar Wood first won the Harms-

ROCHELLE NEWS

By Arthur T. Guest

Rochelle—The annual town election which will be held April 4th, will be the last flag township will hold until 1935. Officers to be elected this year are: town clerk, assessor, school trustee, two library directors, three justices of the peace, and three constables.

R. L. Heydecke, the efficient town clerk for several years, has filed his petition for re-election. Frank D. Thorp, assessor for several terms, also seeks re-election, and is not likely to have opposition. Floyd J. Tilton seeks re-election for justice of the peace and so far is unopposed. W. B. Sechler and Hiram Dutcher have served the town for several years as constables, and are filing petitions for another term. No one has filed for the office of school trustee. Mrs. E. L. Valle and Vincent Carney are candidates for library directors to fill vacancies caused by the death of Fred W. Craft and Walter Gale, who will not seek re-election.

Business changes worth noting include change in management of the Rochelle Recreation Parlors. Wilbur Antoine has assumed management of the Bowling Alleys and the league bowling will continue as scheduled. Robert Weik, former manager of the Rochelle Recreation has opened "Bob's Sandwich Shop" in the M. J. Dailey building on Lincoln Ave.

Jack Goldstein has opened up a new poultry and egg depot at Rochelle. He is located in the Clark building, on Second Ave., next door to Marxman's.

Mr. Goldstein and family plan to make Rochelle their permanent home, moving here from Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Politsch, who have been residing in the Steve Kennedy property on Fifth Avenue, have moved to Mendota. Mr. Politsch was formerly manager of the local National Tea Company store. He has been succeeded by C. P. Dodge.

Mr. and Mrs. George Guirl and family, who have been residing in the Miss Louisa May property on Lincoln Highway, have moved to Rockford. Mr. Guirl will continue in the manufacturing business as a builder of batteries.

Donald Ackerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ackerson, and Miss Mabel Harms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Harms, all of this vicinity, were united in marriage at the Lutheran parsonage, Saturday Feb. 18th, by Rev. O. H. Linnemier. The happy couple will reside on a farm near Amboy.

Seven per cent dividend checks will be mailed to depositors of the Farmers' Bank of Creston within the next thirty days. W. D. Mough, assistant to Receiver L. C. Lundgreen, has announced. Mailing of these latest dividend checks will bring the amount paid out by the bank within a year, to 37 per cent.

Miss Helen E. Heyer daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Heyer of Dixon, and Edward L. Cecco, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cecco of Rochelle, who were married by Rev. Fr. Walsh at St. Patrick's church, Dixon, on Sunday, Feb. 10th, will reside in Rochelle following their honeymoon.

Mrs. Cecco is a graduate of Dixon high school with the class of 1932. Mr. Cecco attended St. Bede's College, Peru.
